The list is organized under the following topics:

1. Asperger Syndrome/Autism Spectrum and Marriage:

- The Other Half of Asperger Syndrome by Maxine Aston
  This book is focused on various non-spectrum or NT (neurotypical) spouse perspectives and experience in the AS marriage. Validating narratives of what it means to be with an AS partner.

- Aspergers in Love by Maxine Aston
  This book is based on numerous interviews of couples in an AS marriage or relationship. Also includes strategies for dealing with the difficulties of a neurodiverse marriage.

- The Asperger Couple’s Workbook by Maxine Aston
  One of Maxine’s later books, offers activities, illustrations and worksheets for couples to use in their marriage.

- Marriage with Asperger Syndrome: 14 Practical Strategies by Eva Mendes
  A paper I wrote for couples where one or both partners have AS. I have 14 distinct categories of strategies and behaviors couples can use to create ease and harmony in their marriage or long-term relationships.

- Is It Time to See a Couple’s Counselor? by Eva Mendes
  An article I wrote for Oasis-MAAP, a midwest-based, national autism organization that works to provide resources and create awareness for autism. I wrote about my own work with couples in AS marriages and how I work with them.

- Asperger Marriage: Viewing Partnerships thru a Different Lens
  by Grace Myhill and Dania Jekel
  This is a wonderful article written by my mentors and colleagues at the Asperger’s Association of New England about the Spouse Support Groups that were pioneered by Grace and Dania. The article also describes the AS marriage relationship.
- An Asperger Marriage by Gisela and Christopher Slater-Walker
  This book is a first-person account from both partners in an AS marriage. An experiential narrative of their unique AS courtship and relationship useful to validate and understand the AS marriage experience.

- Asperger Syndrome and Long-Term Relationships by Ashley Standford
  This book is a personal narrative of the wife of a man with AS. The book is neatly organized based on the DSM-IV criteria for AS, interspersed with personal experience and anecdotes. One of the few American books on an AS marriage.

- Alone Together by Katrin Bentley
  Swiss-born and raised, Katrin’s book is a story of an intercontinental courtship with her Australian husband and their subsequent marriage and difficulties with her husband’s AS. Her book is a great narrative of what it is like to be married to a man with undiagnosed AS.

- The Journal of Best Practices by David Finch
  David’s book is the only book on marriage written by a man with AS. David’s book is a personal narrative on his courtship and marriage. It also contains advice for how he addresses issues in his marriage, all from his perspective as a man with AS.

- Asperger Syndrome — A Love Story by Sarah Hendrickx
  A rare book on AS marriage because it is a joint narrative by both partners on being in an AS relationship. This is a good read with examples that could serve as a model for some couples in an AS relationship.

- Connecting with Your Asperger Partner by Louise Weston
  Ms. Weston’s book is a personal narrative and a practical guide for coping with an AS marriage. This book is geared towards the NT spouse in the marriage rather than both partners.

- The Five Love Languages by Gary Chapman
  This book breaks down five different ways in which people prefer to give and receive romantic love. He has exercises at the end of the book that couples find useful in discovering their own love language and thus express their love for each other.

- Counselling for Asperger Couples by Barrie Thompson
  Thompson’s book is a wonderful resource both for couple’s counselors, as well as, couples. He is an adult on the spectrum himself and a therapist for couples where one or both partners have AS. It’s similar to Maxine Aston’s workbook, Thompson’s book has a good selection of concrete strategies that the couple and their therapist can use.

2. General Books on Asperger Syndrome (Autism Spectrum):

- The Complete Guide to Asperger’s Syndrome by Tony Attwood
  Tony’s book is simply the best and most comprehensive on the subject of Asperger Syndrome. A must for every family living with AS.

  Written by Rudy, a woman with AS, this book is a compilation of numerous narratives of women with AS. It is a great book for those looking to understand AS in women.

  This is a list of traits that people dating or in a relationship with a woman with AS should read. Another book by Rudy that speaks more about women with AS and their behavior in relationships.

- Asperger's on the Job by Rudy Simone
  This is a must read for adults on the Autism Spectrum and those that work with them to help them in making career and employment choices. Rudy also discusses ways in which to work with your employer in creating an environment more conducive to AS.

- Look Me in the Eye by John Elder Robison
  This is a first-person narrative of an adult man with AS who lived undiagnosed for most of his life.

  A charming, first person account of what it is like to be a boy on the Autism Spectrum. Very well written and touches upon many important subjects related to AS.

  A book by a woman with AS. Liane is a pioneering woman in that hers was one of the first books to be written by a woman on the Autism Spectrum.
